

MANY WITNESSES ARE QUESTIONED

Grand Jury Is Trying to Solve Mystery of Rear-Admiral's Death.

PEOPLE THROU COURT HOUSE

Even Street Is Packed With Crowds Drawn by Curiosity.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Boston, March 24.—The grand jury investigation into the alleged murder of Rear-Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, U.
S. N., retired, began in the Plymouth County courthouse at Plymouth today.

District Attorney Albert F. Barker hoped to indict Mrs. Jennie May Eaton for the poisoning of her husband, the late admiral.

When adjournment was taken this evening, District Attorney Barker had questioned over a score of witnesses and more have been summoned to appear to-morrow, when the grand jury will sit again behind closed doors.

Not in years has a New England grand jury murder investigation stirred the people in the six States as much as the Eaton case. When the courthouse was thrown open for the assembling of the jurors, the street outside was packed with a crowd of curious people. Historic Plymouth, the landing place of the Pilgrims, had more folk within its gates to-day than in the busy summertime when the steamers and trains bring the excursionists. The Superior Criminal Court room was filled when Judge Dubuque entered and instructed the grand jury. In his charge, the judge said:

"It is absolutely imperative that you keep your deliberations secret. If you do not you may find yourself before the court for obstructing justice, and those involved with you may also come before the court." The jury then departed through the crowded courtroom and downstairs to the county commissioner's room. Here the doors were locked and the district attorney began the presentation of his case.

Among the first witnesses examined was Professor Whitney, of Harvard.
It was he who made the examination of the organs of Admiral Eaton and found poison.

Two other principal witnesses were Charles E. Nordstrom, a private detective, and Miss Anna C. Rooney, a trained nurse.
The detective had been engaged by Mrs. Eaton a few months previous to the admiral's death, to shadow the admiral and secure evidence for his arrest on a charge of poisoning the whole Eaton family. Miss Rooney was the trained nurse who was hired by Mrs. Eaton to attend to the homesick admiral at Annapolis as a friend of Mrs. Eaton. It was the duty of the nurse to observe any signs of insanity on the part of the admiral. Attending physicians, undertakers and neighbors of the Eatons made up the other witnesses of the day.

Mrs. June Keyes and Dorothy Ainsworth Eaton, the two daughters of the accused woman, were in the courtroom to-day awaiting to be called by the grand jury as witnesses.
Mrs. Eaton in the Plymouth jail near-by was cheerful. She had a long talk with her attorneys.

MOTHER OF TALLEST MAN.

Mrs. Lucy Nelson Dies at Her Home in Essex County.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Fredericksburg, Va., March 24.—Lucy Nelson, the mother of the largest and tallest man of modern times, died at her home in Essex County a few days ago, aged eighty-eight years. Her son, Pickett Nelson, the giant, was raised in that county, and until the time of his death, which occurred in Baltimore a few years ago, traveled with a circus and was exhibited as the largest and tallest man in the world. He was said to be nine feet seven inches in height and weighed nearly 400 pounds.

EXPECTS TO RAISE MONER.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Bristol, Va., March 24.—The Rev. R.
K. Sutherland, financial agent of Emory and Henry College, the historic Methodist school at Emory, is encouraged over the effort made to raise $75,000 in Holston conference in order to make binding the $50,000 offered by the Rockefeller board and $25,000 offered by Andrew Carnegie. Various Virginia communities are taking a lively interest. At Emory, the college community, $3,500 has been raised.
Marion will furnish $1,200; Abingdon, $1,000, and Bristol and other communities proportionately large sums. The Methodists of Bluefield, W. Va., have pledged $1,200.

Broad Rock spring is entirely enclosed with glass.
There is no possibility of contamination from outside sources.

COMES TO VETERAN'S AID

Chesterfield Supervisors Set $500 Aside for Reunion Expenses.

An appropriation of $500 to defray the cost of transporting the Confederate veterans of the county to the reunion at Gettysburg, Pa., in July, was made yesterday morning at the regular meeting of the Chesterfield Board of Supervisors at Chesterfield Courthouse.
A committee composed of Judge J.
M. Gregory, Augustine Royall, Captain W. W. Baker and T. S. Woodfin, representing Chesterfield Camp, U. C. V., appeared before the board with a petition asking for the appropriation. According to the official records of the county there are 132 veterans residing within the borders of Chesterfield.
It is not thought that more than one-half of this number will ask for transportation.

In making the appropriation the supervisors made the petitioning department a committee for disbursing the funds. They will be required to return an itemized account to the board at the end of the trip. The appropriation was made by authority of the legislature, which granted permission to the counties to defray the expenses of needy veterans. The reunion will be for both Union and Confederate soldiers.

ASKS FOR FRANCHISE

Chesapeake and Potomac Company Wants to Use County Roads.

Application for a franchise to extend telephone and telegraph wires on all county roads was made yesterday by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia at the meeting of the Chesterfield Board of Supervisors. The grant called for more consideration, and the matter was referred to the committee consisting of Commonwealth's Attorney Haskins, Hobson and County Engineer W. W.
LaPrade. A report will be made to the board at the next regular meeting.
The Virginia Railway and Power Company asked permission of the board to lower its tracks under the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad's belt line near Petersburg. A committee consisting of Messrs. Hobson and LaPrade and Supervisors T. Thomas Hatcher and W.
A. Horner will go over the ground this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of looking into the feasibility of the plan.

SHOOTS AT EMPLOYER

Negro Driver Trys to Kill O. E. Clay in His Office.

Enraged, it is said, by being ejected from the office of the Southside Wood and Coal Company, at Twenty-first and Decatur Street, Henry Miles, colored, seventeen years old, made an unsuccessful attempt to shoot O. E. Clay, the manager, yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock. The bullet went wide of the mark, and before the negro could pull the trigger the second time he was disarmed.

Miles is said to have visited the office while drunk. He started a discussion and Mr. Clay, resenting his remarks, forced him out of the office.
Miles pulled his revolver, but before he could fire, his arm was knocked up and the bullet went wide of the mark.

Miles escaped, but was captured some hours later at his home on Decatur Street. He is being held at the Third Station without bail for trial this morning before Justice Maurice.

IN POLICE COURT.

The largest docket in more than a month was before Justice Maurice yesterday morning in Police Court, Part II.
Charles Smith, in whose place of business six young white men were caught early Sunday morning playing poker, was fined $25 and costs for allowing gambling on the premises.
Pines of $5 and costs were paid by each of the players.

Emmanuel Holby, colored, charged with being a suspicious character, was fined $5 and costs. Frank Jefferson, colored, who refused to aid in placing Holby under arrest, was fined $10 and costs.

Ed Sutton, Jerry Johnson and John Bright, colored, charged with being in default of fines of $5 and costs, Oscar Fortune, charged with a similar offense, contributed the same amount to Justice Maurice. L. S. Godsey and G. E. Muir, charged with gambling, also paid up.

Holly Easley, colored, charged in a warrant with nonsupport, was dismissed.
Jeff Woodridge, colored, charged with an assault on May Banks, was made a member of the road force for sixty days.

Will Elect Vestry.

The annual meeting of the congregation of Meade Memorial Episcopal Church will be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock at the church. The election of vestrymen for the ensuing year will come up.

Missing Man Returns Home.

J. A. Symes, of Ninth and Stockton Streets, whose disappearance was reported to the Southside police Sunday afternoon, returned to his home yesterday. He explained to his wife and children that he had merely taken a trip to Petersburg.

William McDougal, colored, was arrested yesterday charged with allowing gambling in his establishment. Six negroes were caught in a game of crap at a pool room operated by the man.

Boy Again Runs Away.

Leonard Hanes, thirteen years old, who ran away from his home on East Fifth Street March 2, and was found three days later at Hampton, has again disappeared. The boy has an inclination for the stage, and it is thought that he has gone North to join a theatrical troupe. Last week William Hanes, grandfather of the boy, was appointed his guardian by Judge E. H.
Wells.

Will Bring Moore Back.

Officer W. E. Wasmack will leave this morning for Norfolk to bring back to this city Thomas E. Moore, the alleged bigamist, who will stand trial in this city. Through a misunderstanding, the Southside authorities have been waiting for the Norfolk police to return Moore, but have been advised that it will be necessary to send an officer for him.

All Celebrate Holiday.

Yesterday was celebrated in true spirit by Southsiders. The south-bank of the James River was lined with fishermen all day. While the catches were small, the day's outing on the river was keenly enjoyed.
In this city, through a misunderstanding, the Southside authorities
have been waiting for the Norfolk police to return Moore, but have been
send an officer for him.

Verdict for Defendant.

A verdict for the defendant was returned yesterday by the jury which heard evidence in the suit of the Middle Atlantic Immigration Company against A. Thielman in Hastings Court, Part II. Anton Durkin, who was joined in the suit, recently took bankruptcy, and the case against him was dropped.
Isaac Diggs and Charles L. Page represented the plaintiffs, and Leigh R.
Page the defendant.

O. J. Andrews Dead.

O. J. Andrews, fifty-seven years old, died last night at 7 o'clock at his home, 116 Sixth Street, after a long illness. Besides his wife, he leaves four children: James Mary and Irene Andrews, and Cornelius Walker Andrews. He also is survived by one brother, E. J. Andrews, and one sister, Mrs.
Joseph Marsh, of Petersburg.
The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Rockton Street Baptist Church. The burial will be in Maury Cemetery.

Church to Be Rebuilt.

Bristol, Va., March 24.—The Rev. J.
W. Repass, pastor, will begin this week the work of rebuilding the Virginia Avenue Methodist Church, which was destroyed by fire last fall while a service was being held. He will be aided in the work by various congregations in Holston conference.

MAKES FULL CONFESSION

Lindsay Moses, Colored, Now in Jail Charged With Crime.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Cape Charles, Va., March 24.—Captain Gilmore, with two other detectives of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, early this morning arrested Lindsay Moses, colored, sixteen years old, suspected of tampering with the switch that caused a wreck at Belle Haven on the morning of March 19, in which the engineer, Samuel B. Harrel, was killed and the fireman, Virgil H. Hearn, so badly injured that he died a few hours later in a Norfolk hospital, where he was placed for treatment.

The colored youth, who is halfwitted, has been under surveillance for two days. He had been seen loitering near the scene of the wreck, and had been driven away from the station at Emore by the operator. He was a passenger on a train the night before the wreck, and was put off at Nassauwades as he did not have sufficient funds to pay his fare. He was found at an early hour this morning at the home of his parents at Bridgetown by Captain Gilmore and his men and later removed to the Accomack County prison. He confessed his guilt, saying he broke the lock open with a heavy iron bar, and threw the switch that wrecked the train. When asked why he had committed the act, his only reply was: "Just for fun." When quesioned further, he talked in an incoherent and disconnected manner, and but little information could be gained from him. He does not seem to realize the enormity of his crime.

While a force of men was endeavoring to remove the dead body of the engineer from beneath the wrecked engine, the youth was an interested onlooker, mingling with the crowd of curious spectators. The youth is an inveterate cigarette smoker, and when searched his pockets were filled with cigarette butts. A bottle of whiskey was also found on his person. He is possessed of a hallucination that someone is going to send him a bicycle, and as he stood watching the work of the men clearing the wreck, inquired several times if they had found his wheel. His questions became so aggravating he was ordered away from the scene.

Both victims of the wreck were residents of Delmar, Del.

Denied New Trial.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Bristol, Va., March 24.—William Poore, convicted of the killing of Ne-son Archer, a member of the Tennessee State militia, and given five months in prison in Virginia, has been denied a new trial by Judge J. H. Kelly, of the Court. Pending an effort to appeal, the sentence is suspended.

SATAN'S ANGELS TO HOLD MEETING

They Will Elect New Devil to Take Place of Present Ruler Over Hades

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Bristol, Va., March 24.—The Rev.
"Sleepy" Tom Clark, of Abingdon, known far and wide as the "prophet of the Holston," is holding a meeting in which he is inspired in prophecy, has set a task for the little mountain town of Tazewell, in Claiborne County, near the Kentucky border, and that is to prepare for a convention of angels, who were cast out of Heaven with Satan.
"Sleepy" Tom, who says his mother before him was a prophet, having predicted the coming of the angels with great solemnity of a visitation of the angels of the devil recently, and details a conversation that took place between himself and them. He was told that all the angels cast out of Heaven with Satan had joined in a call for a convention, soon to be held at Tazewell, at which time they are to vote upon the nomination of a new devil. Clark declared that he was advised that the old Satan, the stern prince of darkness for so many centuries, had become timid and afraid because of the advent of Woodrow Wilson, and existing conditions. "The poor people can hardly get breadstuffs," he was told by the angels, and they added: "It was the Cross against the Crescent, and every Bulgarian who fell in battle had a New Testament in his pocket, and this pleased the Lord." And "Sleepy" Tom inquired, "Is there any prospective candidate for the devilship?" And they answered: "Wayland killed himself to become a candidate."

"This," said the prophet, when here this week, "was the extent of the revelation to me, but in the vision the significance of it was fraught with the brilliance of the brightest star. Satan is not pleased with the Wilson regime; it is too goodly for him. The powers and principalities of darkness, which have lived in triumph for many hundreds of years under the old regime, have caused to tremble at the advent of Woodrow Wilson. Satan is too weak and languid to meet the new situation, according to the conceptions of those who dwell in iniquity and battle for its hosts; hence this convention, which has been called to install a new devil."
"Sleepy" Tom is the prophet who predicts that the world will come to an end in 1915.

METHODISTS NOW USING HANDSOME NEW CHURCH

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Harrisonburg, Va., March 24.—The Harrisonburg Methodists yesterday held services for the first time in their magnificent new $60,000 church on South Main Street, which has just been completed. Dr. John C. Kilgo, of North Carolina, preached in the morning on "The Resurrection," and at night on "Church Membership." At the morning services $20.17 was raised toward the paying for the church, which will not be dedicated until the debt is wiped out. The official board presented the pastor, Dr. H. H. Sherman, with an elegant gold watch. Dr. Sherman completes this week his fourth year at this charge.

A memorial window in honor of the late Dr. S. K. Cox, one of the most distinguished divines of the Baltimore Conference, was presented to the church by friends of that minister.
There are many other memorials in honor of prominent members of the past.

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD HAS $20,000 A YEAR

Frances Leggett Must Try to Worry Along in That Sum.

ALLOWANCE INCREASED

Court Hears What Constitute Necessities for Young Heiress.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

New York, March 24.—Frances Leggett, the sixteen-year-old daughter of the late Francis H. Leggett, millionaire grocer, was to-day allowed $20,000 a year for her education and maintenance. William Rand, Jr., as referee, recommended this amount, and Supreme Court Justice Gerard approved his report.

Miss Leggett is living with her mother, Bessie McLeod Leggett, and an aunt at 12 Bruton Street, Berkeley Square, London, Eng. The three of them rent the house in which they live for $20,000 a year, and of this amount the girl must stand one-third the expense.

Mr. Rand was appointed by the court to determine how much should be allowed Mrs. Leggett, as guardian of her daughter, for her yearly expenses. He states in his report that upon the death of her father the daughter fell heir to an estate which yields a yearly income of $86,272. This includes real estate valued at $227,000 and personal property valued at $1,125,250.

Mrs. Leggett petitioned the court for $20,000 annual allowance for her girl.
This includes expenses for travel, school, doctors, dentists, servants, horses, motors, and incidental expenses. Exclusive of the rent, it cost Mrs. Leggett $4,000 for Frances for the year prior to September, 1910. For the next two years it cost her $5,000 annually for the minor expenses of the child.

Since the death of Mr. Leggett the mother has spent $44,000 from her own purse for her daughter's needs. The referee recommends that the mother be reimbursed to this extent, and the court so ordered.

Mr. Rand states in his report that $20,000 a year is "certainly a large sum of money to spend yearly on a young lady of sixteen," but this is less than one-fourth of her annual income. The referee pointed out that the daughter and her mother have great wealth and are accustomed to live in social surroundings to which large expenditures are appropriate.

"The young lady will soon be of age, she must entertain, and her clothes and jewels may reasonably amount to $10,000 a year," the referee says. "It appears that the young lady is stunted in nothing that money can procure, which makes for bodily strength and health. She also has the benefit of a refined home and the counsel of a wise and devoted mother, who has succeeded in keeping her daughter unspoiled and simple and unselfish in character." The referee concludes with the statement that he thinks $20,000 is "a reasonably proper sum" for Miss Leggett.

It's not this, that or the other thing—it's tobacco goodness!

Oddest Ends From the Wire

MUST'N'T KISS IN STREET.

Yonkers Married Couple Arrested Twice for Crime.

New York, March 24.—Not even on their wedding anniversaries may fond Yonkers couples show their affection by kissing and hugging each other in the streets. Twice have Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAliese, of 31 Chesnut Street, found this out. Although they are each about forty-five years old, they do not forget sentiment, especially on anniversaries. They were before Judge Beall yesterday on a charge of causing a disturbance in Alah Street on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. McAliese were arrested at their arrest. It was the twenty-first anniversary of their marriage. They were merely kissed each other in honor of the occasion. Their osculatory demonstration was so ardent, Patrolman Keenan said that they attracted a crowd and he arrested them for disorderly conduct. Judge Beall released them under suspended sentence.

On their twentieth anniversary, a year ago, the couple were arrested for kissing each other on Warburton Avenue. They were go in court that time also.

NIGHTMARE SAYS BIG AUTO.

Thieves Scared from New Rockefeller Car by Cries in Sleep.

Greenwich, Conn., March 24.—Percival G.
Rockefeller, son of William G. Rockefeller, came within an arm of losing his costly new touring car at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, when two men broke into his garage with a jimmy.

They had the car pushed partly out of the garage, and that they did not get it away was due to a nightmare of James Brown, a chauffeur whose sleeping quarters are over the garage.

His cries aroused Robert Maird, a groom, who came from his room and found him him. Both Brown and Maird then heard noises below. They saw the car outside and the two men running away. The nightmare evidently scared them. The garage door was found forced open.

FIRST TIME HE'D LOST SADD.

Atlantic City Crash Too Much for Railroad Official's Boy.

Atlantic City, March 24.—Sobbing as if his heart would break, a twelve-year-old boy entered police headquarters and informed the desk sergeant that he had lost his father in the great crash of horses on the boardwalk. "Come inside and sit down," was the reassuring invitation, and your father will soon be here looking for you. We'll find him without any trouble."

The boy, who is a native of this kindred-suggestion and retorted: "That isn't what is troubling me. I have been to the Pacific Coast with dad and he never came back. I have ever lost him. This is the first time that I have ever lost him."

He followed a veritable storm of grief, which was not stemmed until the boy's father, George Ballentine, a Pennsylvania Railroad official, entered headquarters an hour later, as the desk sergeant had predicted. The boy's father was tempered somewhat by the disgrace he felt over being "lost."
